Town Hall Talks On Rapid Transit And High Taxes

Town Hall brought its touring troop of taxpayers to City Hall last night and played to an audience of 15.

The organization, formally the Town Hall Association of San Mateo County, is comprised of 2,000 San Mateo County taxpayers presently devoting their efforts to defeating rapid transit.

The president of the group, C. Julian Wheeler of Menlo Park, started things off by introducing the rapid transit chairman, James Himmel of Millbrae. Himmel presented the Town Hall report on rapid transit. The report opposes rapid transit on three main counts:

1.—The present plan would give dictatorial powers to Bay Area Rapid Transit's board of directors.

2.—San Mateo County's bonded indebtedness would rise 200 per cent.

3.—Rapid transit would not be a significant improvement over Southern Pacific.

After Himmel presented the report, he asked for comment from the audience.

Tom Callan Sr., former San Mateo County supervisor, got up and said he wondered why San Mateo County got in the thing in the first place, and if the county wants out, why not get out now.

"We went into this thing for three years and three years only," said Callan. "At the present time the board of supervisors can get out any time they want."

Himmel disagreed.

"The State Legislature has bound us to the provisions of the act," he said. "We cannot leave the rapid transit district before the 30-day period from April 26 to May 26. That is the earliest San Mateo County can withdraw."

Callan came back on the general subject of taxes.

"A few years ago we passed a school bond issue. So what happened, the assessor came up here and raised the assessments. There's where your money goes. The board of supervisors just doesn't care."

"We're asking the board to take us out of rapid transit on Thursday. (The San Mateo County supervisors meet on Thursday, Dec. 7, to decide what rapid transit action to take.) "If they had voted with me in the first place, we never would have gone in the district, and we'd have saved $1.5 million. I'd have saved the county $1.5 million and what happens, the supervisors who voted for it got elected and Callan gets beat."

Next to inquire was Frank Curry, president of the Daly City Chamber of Commerce.

Curry wanted to know what Town Hall could do for Daly City.

Wheeler replied that right now the limited funds and personnel of Town Hall was limiting action to county-wide matters. With greater funds and membership it would be possible to give individual areas more attention.

"I can't understand why every citizen is not a member of a tax organization," said Wheeler. "People seem to get a little irritated when they're writing out the tax check, and then forget all about it."

SCHOOL TAXATION
Then on the subject of school taxation, Wheeler went on:

"You get these women at the board meetings and they handle it on an emotional basis, not on a basis of reason. Today they want $20,000 for grass for a new high school. In my day if you fell down, you skinned your knee, and that was it. Today knees are too tender. That's the trouble now when the kids go into the armed forces. We want them brought up as the kind of people we were when we were young."

"I don't know what you can do with the San Mateo County taxpayer other than hit him over the head with a 10-ton truck."

Then Callan: "Even that wouldn't work."

The subject then switched to the subject of San Mateo County assessments.

"The whole Daly City area is 33 per cent higher than other areas," said Hugh H. Smith Jr., former Daly City councilman. "I bought a lot up here for $7,000 that the county assessor valued at $2,600. At 25 per cent valuation, that puts their valuation at $10,400. When I went before the board of supervisors they told me that it wasn't out of line with other property in the area. The whole county is one-third higher than San Francisco (Continued on Page 2)

Dedication Held At Fer. Rivera

"Work... hard work... including school homework," was the emphatic point made by Dr. Julio L. Bortolazzo, president of the College of San Mateo, to the audience of over 250 children and adults at Fernando Rivera Elementary School dedication last Thursday evening.

The dedication ceremony, one of the largest experienced here to date, was attended by an array of prominent civic and educational special guests.

Dr. Bortolazzo, in his address, cautioned "... that education in the next decade must be of a top priority if we are to prepare our children for the great tasks that they will be expected to face in business, political and scientific fields. This preparation will require "work"—hard work by parents, educators and administrators as a threefold team effort to achieve success. It can and must start here and now."

He also announced that the San Mateo Junior College district is diligently working on plans for the North County campus that will be located just south of Daly City on Skyline drive.

O. Wayne Douglas of the school board and Richard Foster, superintendent, presented to Mrs. Carol Dawson, principal, a very attractive dedication plaque, who, in accepting it, said: "... it will be placed in a prominent spot on our school where it will serve as a constant reminder to the teachers and pupils of our responsibilities and advantages in a free educational system."

Mr. Douglas then presented to Mr. Ciampi a special A. I. A. (American Institute of Architects) award—1961 first place National Honor Award plaque—which was won for Fernando Rivera's outstanding design. Mr. Ciampi, in accepting, said it would be a present to the school for mounting and display so that all Fernando Rivera students could share the award.

Post Office Hours Extended During Christmas Season

During the Christmas season, stations of the Daly City post office will maintain extended holiday service hours from Dec. 13 through Dec. 22. Postmaster Vincent P. Murphy announced today.

Murphy listed the following scheduled hours of service: Westlake Station, 201 Southgate, daily from Dec. 13, from 8 a.m. to 7:30 p.m.; Main office, 31 Bepler street, daily from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.; Colma Station, 7373 Mission street, daily from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.; Station No. 1, 2398 Junipero Serra boulevard, daily from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

On Saturday, Dec. 16, and Saturday, Dec. 23, all stations except No. 1 will remain open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. On Sunday, Dec. 17, all stations except No. 1 will remain open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. No money order service will be provided on Sunday. On Sunday, Dec. 24, and on Monday, Dec. 25, all stations will remain closed.

Murphy offered the following helpful hints to Christmas mailers: Long distance mailings should be made before Dec. 10; Christmas parcels and greeting cards should be mailed no later than Dec. 16.

He offered these helpful hints on how to mail your Christmas cards and gifts to insure prompt and safe delivery before Dec. 25. Use 4 cent postage on your Christmas cards.

Sent by first class mail, they are sorted and delivered first, and if you include your return data on each envelope, they will be forwarded in the event of a change of address, or if they are undeliverable, they will be returned to you.

Also, you can write a personal message on the Christmas cards sent by first class mail; whereas only your signature is authorized on cards sent at the 3 cent rate for unsealed third class mail.

Avoid careless packing of your gifts. Use strong cartons, wrap in heavy paper and tie with sturdy cord. Mark packages containing breakable gifts "Fragile—Handle with Care."

Put an extra label carrying the addressee's and the sender's name and address inside every package, so that in event of the loss of the outside label, the article may be properly forwarded or returned.

Postmaster Murphy reminded his patrons that they should make every effort to shop early and to mail early.

Laguna Salada Clarification On Christmas Carol Singing

Because of the misinterpretation of a discussion held at a Laguna Salada School District board meeting, reports about Christmas practices of the school district have been distorted out of any reasonable proportion. Actually the school policy and state law do not prohibit teaching about religion and/or the use of Christmas carols within the instructional program.

The misinterpretation followed a routine report at a school board meeting concerning laws about Christmas season activities in the public schools. It was pointed out at the meeting that no religious doctrine can be taught in any public school and for this reason teachers are reminded each year in San Mateo County, to use care in presenting songs and concepts at Christmas time.

The reason for issuing the caution is that according to the State constitution and Education Code, officers of school districts who knowingly permit any sectarian or denominational exercises, jeopardize the instructional program of their school district.

Many people believe in a strict separation of church and state. They maintain that religious teaching is the responsibility of the home and the church. Some of these people have indicated that the use of sectarian carols and hymns as a part of a specific program in observance of a specific holiday having religious significance, constitutes religious practice. Carols and hymns that are sung in the classroom as part of the instructional program do not constitute religious practice.

In the Laguna Salada Union School District cooperation is encouraged whenever feasible, with those students who request a reasonable adjustment of their schedule for the conscientious observance of their faith on special occasions.

The Laguna Salada Union School District subscribes to the practice of being hospitable to all religious faiths and partial to none and accept the responsibility for the schools creating a classroom environment that is friendly to the religious beliefs of its students. All students are to be made to feel that their religious beliefs are correct for them so that they will be at ease and comfortable with their religious creed.

Teachers are encouraged to develop in pupils a greater recognition of God and religion as factors in our culture.

Teachers are encouraged to find, explore and use methods of teaching which implant and nourish in youth the moral virtues and spiritual values sanctioned in our democratic society.

It should again be emphasized, carols and hymns can be sung in the classroom as a part of the instructional program. This has been the accepted practice in the school district for several years.

Callan Wins Trial Postponement On Motion To Dismiss Case

The trial of Thomas J. Callan Jr. and Sergio Gregoriev on 104 counts of conspiracy involving title deeds has been postponed until January 22.

The extension was granted last week by Superior Judge J. A. Branson on the request of Callan's attorney, Melvin E. Cohn. Trial formerly was to have begun December 6.

Judge Branson said he agreed to the postponement to give Cohn time to take a petition for a writ of prohibition to the District Court of Appeal. Such a writ, if granted, would prohibit the case from going to trial in the Superior Court.

Judge Branson ruled last week against Cohn on the attorney's effort to have the case dismissed for insufficient evidence. Cohn said that the new appeal was to get the higher court to accept two main arguments.

"The first," he said, "is the question of how my client could possibly be guilty of 44 separate conspiracies when only eight deeds are involved. If there were conspiracies, there could not have been more than eight and probably only one.

"The second point is that, assuming there were any forged deeds, I think the law is clear that you can't steal real property with deeds that do not pass title. If forged deeds cannot pass title, how can the land be stolen?"

Callan, and Gregoriev, co-defendants in the conspiracy trial are being tried on a total of 104 counts of forging documents to acquire property on various tax-delinquent lots, mostly in the Half Moon Bay area.

School Tax Election Committee Is Named

Twenty-three persons who have "shown a great deal of interest in the community over a long period of years" were named Monday night to committees at an organizational meeting of the Jefferson Union High School District Tax Election executive board.

The committees will work at the grass roots level for the Feb. 6 tax increase election. Next meeting is Jan. 4.

Chairman James Cooper, board president, named the following members to the finance committee: Edward Dennis, Jean Fassler, Elio Fontana and Pete Markovich, chairman.

Publicity and Advertising committee includes Elsie Gibson, Lylal Ingersoll, J. Jensen, Allen Rigler, Mrs. Patrick Strain.

Speakers committee members include Lowell Durham, Virginia Jaeger, Jerry Miles, Emory Schoolcraft, Robert Smice, chairman.

The high school steering committee representatives are: Jefferson—Anna Eason, Millie Pleskach; Terra Nova—Connie Mason and Gracy McCarthy; Westmoor—Palmiro Nalli and Thomas Noonan.

District superintendent Edward Morgan will be recording secretary for the executive board. The tax committee includes members from Bayshore, Brisbane, Colma unincorporated, City of Pacifica and Pacific Heights.

"We feel Daly City has been neglected, and we're going to take care of it."

These were the words of College of San Mateo's president Dr. Julio L. Bortolazzo during an interview held today concerning the new North County campus to be built just south of Daly City on Skyline drive.

"We hope to appoint the architect by July 1, 1962. He will begin the preliminary study leading to development of the plans for the school. We are in hopes that we will occupy it by 1966."

"We will offer a complete lower division program leading to an associate of arts degree," said Dr. Bortolazzo. "It will be complete in liberal arts and the sciences. We will not, however, have all the technical fields. There will be no electronics."

"Some of the money from the sale of our present site here in San Mateo will be used for the initial expenditures at the northern site. We will receive $2,250,000 for our present location on Delaware street. Some of this money will go for our new southern campus in College Heights. The money left will go for the northern site. We hope to have about $1,300,000 to apply."

Dr. Bortolazzo was in Daly City last week for the dedication of the new Fernando Rivera School. He spoke on the subject of more work and diligence in the schools and indicated that this would be his plan for the new campus.

Morgan Talks On The Tax

The school district tax election slated to be held in February will be an attempt to raise money to pay the new salaries and operational expenses caused by the two new district schools, Terra Nova and Oceana, according to Superintendent Ed Morgan.

Why go to taxes?
"Because you can only use bond money for capital outlay," said the superintendent.

"Under state law you can't use bond money to pay teachers salaries. We have no need to go to bonds for capital. This will be for strictly operational purposes. Not an increase in salary, mind you, but with 600-800 new kids per year being added out here, we are going to have to hire new teachers."

The tax issue, tentatively scheduled to go to vote on February 6, will, if approved, take effect for the 1962-1963 (Continued on Page 2)

SOLUTION BEING SOUGHT TO END SAN BRUNO DIRT-HAUL MISERIES

Mayor Don Rizzo, appearing on a San Francisco television station's Bay Region Report, expressed confidence that the newly-formed San Bruno Citizens' Committee for the Control of Dirt-Hauling and the San Bruno City Council would be able to get together on a solution to the problem during the respite from the trucks afforded by the fall rains.

The San Bruno Committee meets next Monday night in the City Hall Council chambers to map its immediate proposals for the following Wednesday night's council meeting.

On the same television program, Ben C. Chapman, president of the new group, pointed out the old Bayshore Highway and wet excavation from the Bay as possible alternatives; John Barnard gave a brief history San Bruno's dirt-haul experiences and charged lack of sufficient action by the City Council; and Jack Ludwig described the objectionable features of dirt-hauling both from the citizens and the merchants point of view.

Early this week, Chapman conferred with San Mateo County Supervisor T. Louis Chess, who has proposed the $9,500 dirt conveyor belt study by the Mutual Problems Committee of the counties of San Mateo and San Francisco. Chess offered to work closely with the San Bruno group, exchanging representatives at meetings, and congratulated Chapman on the group's broad approach to the problem.

Councilman Leo Ryan of South San Francisco has been invited to next Monday's session of the San Bruno group, which will also hear reports from the Ordinance Study Committee, Public Relations Committee, and the Engineering Committee.

Survey Released On Dual Sessions In HS

Superintendent Ed Morgan of the Jefferson Union High School District released a report last week giving the results of an area survey on double sessions in the Jefferson district high schools.

The report, instigated by the Board of Trustees and conducted by the Stanford University School of Education, indicated that just about nobody prefers the double sessions.

The double session at Westmoor last year brought about considerable interest as to the effects, if any, that double sessions have on students and learning—and the side effects that they may have on parents and the community.

Because Terra Nova did not get State funds in time for operations during 1960-1961, it was decided that Westmoor could be used to accommodate both high schools, and that each school could operate for half a day.

There were, in essence, two complete high schools in one building.

The parents and other community adults questioned deplored the double sessions because they believed they deprived the child of proper education and teacher supervision, and provided him with too much time to get into trouble. Eighty-six per cent were against them and 85 per cent believed they were bad for the community.

TEACHERS GIVE OPINION

The teachers polled were equally adamant in their dislike. The faculty members stated they thought the double sessions placed limitations on the extra-curricular activities of the child, kept him from taking full advantage of the library and caused a drop in student morale, efficiency and learning.

Sixty-one per cent of the teachers believed their own performance was affected by double sessions. Eighty per cent of the teachers believed the community was against the sessions; 63 per cent thought the students were against them.

STUDENTS NOT SURE

The students admitted that their parents did not like the double sessions (73%), admitted that they did not get their fair share of special facilities (60%), admitted that it would be a bad thing for double sessions to become the rule (68%), admitted that there isn't enough time to study (69%), admitted that school spirit is off (69%), and admitted that they would get more opportunity to use the library under regular session (68%).

They then added that they were not sure they would do any more homework under regular session (45% - 45%); that the shorter class periods seemed to be the right length (51% - 44%), and that they liked double sessions (46% - 45%).

PLANT EFFICIENCY

The greatest justification for double sessions is usually that they provide for greater efficiency of the school plant. The buildings are idle for shorter periods of time and each school is able to educate more students with a given facility.

On this aspect, 53 per cent of the parents said they believed that school facilities were used more efficiently and 35 per cent said they believed this was not a factor. Among the teachers, 40 per cent spoke for efficiency and 48 per cent said this was not a factor.

The statistics of the report seem to indicate that though no one seems to really favor the double sessions, those interviewed seem to be against them only to the extent that they as individuals are affected. There doesn't seem to be any clear evidence in the report that learning was impeded.

Although 32 per cent of the students indicated that they believed the double sessions handicapped them in preparation for college life or a vocation, 53 per cent were undecided, and 53 per cent said they did not.

The poll included the entire student body of the two schools (1,871 students), a sample of parents in the community (140 adults), and the entire staff of the schools (140 people: 93 teachers, 18 administrators and counselors, 13 librarians and clerks, 15 custodians, and 1 nurse).

THANKS TO OFFICER CROWLEY

Daly City Police Department.

Dear Sir:

This is a letter of thanks for the fast and efficient service we received from a member of your police department.

The policeman who came to our aid and took our three-year-old son to the emergency hospital in Colma on Oct. 8 was very kind and efficient. The incident involved our son, who went through a glass door at "Open-for-Inspection Home."

We were very pleased with the service and thought we would take the time out to express our thanks.

We believe the policeman's name who helped us was John Crowley.

Sincerely yours,
MR. AND MRS. GEORGE W. MORRIS, JR.

"We're going to continue to ride our cars because that's what we want to do. They're trying to shove rapid transit down our throats when we don't really want it. People won't ride rapid transit because they simply want to use their cars. ert D. Srugoli, 27, an unemployed bartender.

As police entered, Srugoli was sitting at a table allegedly taking bets over the telephone. Police found win, place and show markers and other betting records. Then they took several bets themselves over the phone for evidence.

Officers said Srugoli was making bets to Tanforan and other Eastern tracks. "It was a good-sized operation—between $2,000 and $3,000 per day," Savage said. He stated Srugoli might have cleared $1,000 per day on the bets. He had been making book there about a month, police said.

Police had cased Srugoli's five-room residence for several days before making out a search warrant. Srugoli posted $10,000 cash bail following his arrest. Trial date in South San Francisco Municipal Court was set for December 12.

The View From ...Behind The Badge

Written and Edited by Daly City Police Department

We spoke recently of staff and service activity which backs up the patrol units. This includes communications to and from the patrol units and the station. It also includes the Records operation, which, in a sense, is the repository of the officer's investigatory findings and reports of other activities.

Records, sometimes thought of as an unnecessary bureaucratic adjunct to the police effort, actually have several reasons for existence. They represent the effort of the Department by containing investigation findings, statistics, crime and traffic trends, and the like. They allow for the continual evaluation and re-evaluation of the Police effort by the Police administrators.

It is an important task, then, of the Policeman in the field to report his findings of an investigation made by him. The task is second only to the officer's primary duties of the protection of life and property. The study and evaluation of the officer's reports allows for the planning of improvements in manpower assignments, investigatory procedures, departmental policies, and in general Police strategy and tactics.

The job, then, is of the utmost importance—but it can become so time consuming as to defeat its purpose. A few years ago the Daly City Policeman typed all of their reports. With the volume of business and other activities on the increase, an increase in reports naturally followed. This took the officers off of the streets to type their reports, and they sometimes were not present to prevent offenses on the street—hence, more investigations resulting in more reports—a vicious spiral. At one time approximately 30 per cent of the individual officer's time was spent at the station, typing reports.

In order to keep the officers on the street for a greater length of time, a hand-written report procedure was introduced into this Department. Theoretically, this allowed the officers to write their reports while still on the street, allowed them to remain on their beats, and even when their active patrol was interrupted by necessary report writing, the repressive value of their presence existed. The problem was that very few people have an adequate, or even passable, handwriting. Sergeants complained of eye-strain and they were not being entirely facetious at having to read the scrawled reports. It is true that handwriting improved with use, but not sufficiently so as to overcome these objections.

In the past the Department has installed a tape recorder setup for the purpose of voice reporting from the street by the individual beatman. This allows the officer to phone the station, by Police call box or by commercial telephone, and speak his report. His words are preserved on tape, and on the succeeding day watch the voice report is typed onto an appropriate form by a typist in the Records Division.

The situation as it exists now allows the officer to report in most cases without leaving his beat. Naturally, in the case of an arrest the prisoner must be brought in to the station. Even if the officer spends 30 per cent of his time reporting (actually, the figure is much lower), he does not spend that time in the station. He is physically present on his beat. Sergeants, and other agencies do not impair their eyesight pursuing handwritten reports. The resulting typed reports are done much more efficiently than most Policemen could type themselves.

Result—Patrol strength in terms of man hours on the beat is greatly enhanced; evaluation procedure can continue through the maintenance of an adequate Records system so that Patrol practices can be further improved; neat, accurate finished reports are the rule rather than the exception, thus further enhancing the prestige of the Department. General overall success has resulted from the new report making procedures.

Other departments, having experienced the same difficulty, are changing over to this system of reporting. Our big brothers to the north, the San Francisco Police, are in the process at this time of making changes in this direction.

SPORTS NOTE—Josephine Runne, Secretary to the Chief, recently bowled a torrid 213 score at Westlake Bowl. This, while competing in the Daly City Employee's League (a Wednesday night event). Jo is justifiably proud of her accomplishment, and can occasionally be seen instructing envious and less accomplished fellow policemen in the art of kegling.

Xmas Festival To Be Held At War Memorial

For the sixth straight year, a program of Christmas music will be presented to the residents of Daly City and Colma areas featuring the glee clubs of the Jefferson Elementary School District under the supervision of Mrs. Muriel Vint, coordinator of music.

This year's community Christmas festival sponsored by the Department of Recreation will be held at the War Memorial Community Center on Thursday evening, Dec. 14, at 7:30 p.m. and will feature glee clubs of Benjamin Franklin and Colma Junior High Schools. The program will also spotlight individual youngsters who will present instrumental numbers through the cooperation of the California Institute of Music, Romero's Music Center and the Westlake Music Center.

"This festival has become a part of Daly City and is looked forward to by the many participants," states Chuck Vincent, director of recreation. "It has been well received by the public and has undergone some major changes this year in an attempt to make it even more enjoyable."

The program will commence at 7:30 p.m. and is free to the public. As in the past, candy canes will be provided to all participants by the Hi-Fi Teen Club.

Garden Village PTA Having Discussions

Thirty-one kindergarten parents met at Garden Village School on Nov. 29 for a discussion meeting of problems for the five and six year olds. The opinions expressed were vehement and interest was strong. Mrs. Raymond, Mrs. Salet, Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Heisenbuttel served as group chairmen and recorders. This was the second in a series of discussions.

The PTA parent education committee sponsors and serves refreshments during the discussions. Mrs. Marge Yates, curriculum consultant, and Jack Danielson, guidance director, were guests.

Thanksgiving activities gave way to Christmas this week at Garden Village School. The glee club is preparing for its annual Christmas presentation.

Other classes are busily engaged in field trips and assembly programs. The third graders, Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Cropp and Mrs. Relyea visited Sanchez Adobe House in Pacifica and other historical spots in San Mateo County.

All students earning good citizenship status attended an assembly just before Thanksgiving holidays and saw Disney's "Dumbo," which was well received.

Central American Education

(Following are excerpts from letters received by the writer of this series on the various articles that have appeared to date. Where omissions are indicated, the portion omitted is of a personal or business matter, which would be of little general interest to the reader. Letters are presented by date of receipt.)

Guatemala, 9 de Octubre de 1961. (Translated from Spanish). "Apreciable Paris: The receipt of your letter was a great pleasure for me, for after reading it, I found you had not forgotten me, which gave me much satisfaction.

At the same time, please permit me to offer congratulations for the series of articles that are being published. I would like to say after reading your accounts and impressions that they are exact, interesting, and should do much to present a truer picture of the countries you visited and the people in those countries. Everyone I have shown them to have been very pleased. Also, I would like to offer my congratulations for the completion of your trip, which was news of great pleasure for me. I am enclosing an article which appeared in our publication, El Imparcial, the same day that you left this city. I did not forward it sooner because I did not know if you had reached home.

At this time, I am writing to the other friends, and enclosing the article. Please receive an affectionate salute from my dear family, from my father, mother, of my sister and of my uncles and especially of my beloved wife. Without more attention, receive a strong grasp of the hands from your friend,

/s/ RUBEN MATA F. (note: Ruben met the group of teachers as they entered Guatemala City, and became strongly attached to them. He assisted in obtaining a hotel for them, and then made arrangements for the group to meet his family at a dinner, given by them, in honor of the teachers. Following this, he spent a full Sunday acting as guide to the beautiful and ancient city of Antigua. Not content with this hospitality, he mentioned the group to his uncle, who also insisted on dining the group and showing slides of Guatemala. The uncle, a leading wine distributor, presented a bottle of champagne to the group prior to departure from the city.)

Guatemala, C. A. October 10, 1961

Dear Mr. Simmons: Those of us at SCIDE/Guatemala were glad to have you visit this summer, even if it was only for a brief interval. We remember your visit with pleasure, and your interest in the advancement of education in Central America with satisfaction.

Your thoughtfulness in sending along copies of your articles concerning the trip is acknowledged with appreciation. Your letter will be shared with Prof. Manuel Arce, director of our teacher education program, who will provide the specific information which you requested.

As you know, I arrived here only recently, after having served five years in the U. S. Office of Education in Washington. Your inquiry for comment as to my actions and views prompts me to say that my experience here is one of frenzied fascination. The change has been rather dramatic, but not too traumatic. While problems do proliferate in this tropical splendor, the satisfactions do so also. During my first three weeks here, I actually spent less than ten hours in the office. I went into the field by car, horse, jeep, plane, bus; to the heat of the Atlantic coastal plain and the crisp air of the "altiplano"; visited the colorful Indians of the lake region, the mestizo of Peten and the Negro in Puerto Barrios; saw the historic Maya ruins in Tikal and some of the most modern textile plants in Quetzaltenango. The diversity is phenomenal and the desire for progress commendable.

The activities of our education division are also diverse. We have a staff of about 20 U. S. technicians and more than 200 Guatemalans ranging from "coffee boy" to division chief. The programs include the only extension program for in-service teachers in the nation; development of the first vocational school in Guatemala with all its unique perplexities; the launching of a national literacy drive in a country with 72 per cent illiteracy; construction of 325 new schools within the next two years, etc. A copy of our annual report may serve to portray these activities more successfully than my written word.

Again, my appreciation to you in your dedication to the principle that the future of a nation depends on education.

Since you are,

/s/ WALTER ADAMSON

(Dr. Adamson heads the education division of the U. S. Embassy under the program SCIDE, Servicio Cooperativo Interamericano de Educacion. Dr. Adamson spent several hours with two of the teachers, from a busy schedule. He arranged for a conducted tour through the vocational school, and took the teachers to it himself, dashing away to the airport to meet educational representatives from other countries, which was to be followed by a speech in a few hours before a large civic group. The U. S. may be proud of such an excellent and dedicated public servant.)

October 16, 1961

Dear Mr. Simmons: I am very glad to know that you are writing about Latin America and that you are planning to write about Guatemala. I read your articles about Latin America (Central American education) and I liked them very much. They are accurate and interesting.

You asked Dr. Adamson and me to forward you our certification requirements for teachers of Guatemala and a little more detail on our teacher training program. We are very busy right now getting ready for the vacation workshops of our teacher training program which will start on the 20th of this month, but you can be sure that we will send that material to you within two or three weeks. As you probably know, we are having two workshops; a total of about 400 in-service uncertified teachers will attend the eight-week workshops.

I hope the materials will be very helpful in your writing and I congratulate you for the excellent job you are doing in helping the people of the United States understand Latin America.

Sincerely yours,

/s/ MANUEL A. ARCE

(Dr. Arce heads the Teacher Training Program under the SCIDE program. His work in the area of education, particularly in reading programs, is noted throughout Central America. He is author of a text for teachers, on the method of teaching reading, as well as playing a prominent role in the development of controlled vocabulary readers and teachers manuals, on first and second grade levels, written by Guatemalan teachers. The complete series, along with the book written by Dr. Arce was presented to the writer during a three hour visit with this noted educator.)

November 1, 1961

Dear Sir: All the articles which you were kind enough to send me attached to your favor of recent date, I am returning herewith with the assurance that I will be very glad to receive you, if you call my secretary for an appointment.

/s/ ALOLFO G. DOMINGUEZ

Counsel General of Mexico (The above was in response to a request for additional information in connection with articles on Mexico, and for assistance in identifying localities of 35 mm slides.)

November 7, 1961

Dear Mr. Simmons: I found your articles very interesting, indeed, and to the point and many local people who read them liked them very much. Then I took them to the ministry of education, and they promised they would write to you commenting on them.

/s/ FERNANDO R. PENA,

U. S. Embassy

San Jose, Costa Rica

(Sr. Pena is a Costa Rican attached to the U. S. Embassy as a commercial investigator. The first part of the letter deals with the return of the scooters, which will be mentioned in a later article.)

November 8, 1961

Dear Mr. Simmons: I am pleased your trip to Latin America was such an unqualified success.

I wish you success in your long-range program of educating the youngsters on the countries you have visited.

Sincerely,

/s/ EDMUND G. BROWN,

Governor.

(This letter, in response to a letter awarded by the Governor of the State of Jalisco, Guadalajara, Mexico, to Governor Brown, for presentation by the writer. The letter was offered after a delightful one-hour interview in the Governor's Palace in Guadalajara, during which many common problems were the topic of discussion between the Mexican Governor and the North American school teachers. Governor Brown also is being forwarded copies of the articles as they appear.)

FIRE WARNING ON YULE TREE BLAZES GIVEN; CARE IS URGED

"Keep fire away from your fir tree":

That warning comes from the Chief of the Daly City Fire Department as the city approaches the Christmas holidays.

"The Christmas tree, filled with natural pitch and resin, is one of the most combustible objects known," Chief Kennedy warned. "It can burn so quickly it is almost impossible to extinguish the flames by ordinary methods."

To help prevent Christmas tree fires, the following simple precautions were offered:

- 1.—Buy a fresh tree. Be wary of trees sold as fireproof.
- 2.—Keep your tree in a cold place until you are ready to set it up.
- 3.—Before setting up the tree, saw off, diagonally, at least an inch of the trunk, and place in a holder containing water. Keep water reservoir filled.
- 4.—Locate your tree well away from fireplaces, radiators, television sets, powerful electric lights, and other sources of heat.

5.—Never use candles. Use only electric lights and be sure these bear the Underwriters Laboratories label. Check wires for defects and loose sockets before putting them on the tree.

6.—Too many light circuits on one outlet may overload the house wiring and blow a fuse. Reduce the load or connect part to another outlet. Never increase the size of the fuse, or substitute a penny for a blown fuse.

7.—Turn off the tree lights when no one is to be in the room or at home for any lengthy period.

8.—Do not operate electric trains or any other electrical toys which may spark under the tree.

9.—Be sure the ends of metallic icicles or other hanging decorations do not dangle into light sockets where they can cause a short-circuit or flash fire.

10.—Move the Christmas tree lights as the tree's needles near turn brown.

11.—Dispose of old trees in fire-safe areas outdoors, not in furnaces, stoves, fireplaces, because Christmas trees burn with almost explosive violence.

Local Scouts Promote Xmas Seal Campaign

Boy Scouts have been busily distributing posters promoting the anti-tuberculosis Christmas Seal Campaign in Daly City, Colma and Westlake, according to Louis Colagiovanni, county Christmas Seal chairman.

The operation went smoothly under the direction of Dick Ross, Lake Merced District Boy Scout Executive, and Howard Stites, Lake Merced assistant commissioner. Troops which participated were No. 63, under Scoutmaster Rich Merritt; No. 243, Scoutmaster Harry Hettel; No. 248, Scoutmaster J. M. Renfrow, and No. 343, Scoutmaster Frank Benkers.

Certificates of appreciation will be sent to these troops by the San Mateo County Tuberculosis and Health Association, which is financed entirely by the annual Christmas Seal campaign.

"The help of these Boy Scouts in Daly City and Colma and in every other community in San Mateo County has been of inestimable value," Colagiovanni declared. "We are reminding people in their own local communities that we need their help for our program of free chest X-rays and health education which will be carried on in those same local communities."

Buri Buri Christmas Luncheon Date Set; Chorus Plans Made

The annual Christmas luncheon of the Woman's Club of Buri Buri will be held at the Brentwood Lodge, Dec. 16, at noon.

Tickets are $2.50 for members and $2.75 for guests, and are obtainable from Mrs. Edwin Stanaway, chairman of the luncheon committee, and Meses. Lou Wirgler, Ray Lamperti, Arley Tripp, Kenneth Brown, Margaret Purcell, Olga Gregory, and Audrey Howard.

The choral group of the Woman's Club of Buri Buri is hard at work preparing selections for the annual Christmas luncheon of the Woman's Club of Buri Buri. Each year the members of the choral group sing Christmas carols at the luncheon, and the serenade has become one of the highlights of the afternoon. Under the leadership of Mrs. Lorenze Buttleman, the choral members will be holding special rehearsals this week. Meses. William MacLaren, Donald Morgan, Edward Laurel, John Hamilton, Gus Speridon, Margaret Purcell, Phillip McGinnis, Edward Grane, Robert Reing, Olga Gregory, Basil Cruise, and Gerald Reihnen will sing.

In accord with the community service objectives of the Woman's Club of Buri Buri as a whole, each of the many groups within the club also perform some service for or donate to a project selected by the group members.

So far this year (1961-62) three groups have selected their projects: The social group has made a contribution to the South San Francisco Boys' Club, and will continue to work for this organization. The creative writing group will work for the American Field Service, and the books and theater group will again this year contribute to aid retarded children. The remaining groups will choose their service projects this month.

Students Sing, Act, At Colma K-6 Assembly

Students sang songs, acted in a play and conducted a puppet show Nov. 22 at Colma K-6 School assembly.

Student council president Keith Poole introduced his council members and several mothers attended the assembly to see their children perform. The program included presentations from five classes:

Mrs. Gibbon's kindergarten class danced and sang songs to piano accompaniment.

A food puppet show was put on by Mrs. Martin's first grade class. The children participated in choral speaking, singing, and pantomime. The theme of the show was, appropriately, "Thanksgiving."

The fourth grade class of Mrs. Royter sang songs, accompanied on the autoharp. The children also kept rhythm with tom-toms.

Mrs. McKeown's third/fourth grade class culminated their unit on machines with their original play called "Machines We Use Every Day." Stanley Cuneo, moderator, was ably assisted by Bonnie Grant. The inclined plane or ramp was portrayed by a very realistic truck made by Michael Cardoza and his committee members.

The program concluded with the excellent singing of "Exodus" by Mrs. Rasmussen's fourth/fifth grade class.

SSF Woman's Club Plans Yule Hi-Jinks

The South San Francisco Woman's Club will hold its traditional Christmas High Jinks at the regular meeting Thursday, Dec. 7. A turkey luncheon will be served at noon with Mrs. Andrew Gidas as chairman.

After the luncheon there will be a short business meeting, followed by a Christmas apron parade. Members will make and model aprons appropriate for the holidays and be awarded prizes for the prettiest and the most original. Judges in this contest will be Mrs. Andrew Hynding, Mrs. Victor Escallier and Mrs. Benjamin Penley.

Mrs. Carl Verhagen, drama chairman, will present a skit in which club members will participate.

Gifts will be exchanged, with Mrs. R. N. Whitehead as Santa's helper distributing them.

Garden Village PTA Hears Psychologist

At the November unit meeting, members of Garden Village PTA paused in the midst of holiday preparations to hear Ray A. Graber, consulting psychologist for Jefferson Elementary School District, describe his function in the district.

By way of introduction he outlined the types of meetings he and his colleagues attend regularly, both those within the district itself and those involving consultants and coordinators throughout the area. He pointed out that district psychologists are used as consultants in developing certain policies and procedures and are called upon to express opinions regarding discipline and curriculum changes in terms of children's needs. In this connection he stated that the problems encountered in district work are as often difficulties in learning as in behavior.

With respect to individual referral cases where a child is, in the opinion of the consultant, in need of guidance, Graber stressed that parents are always called in to discuss the specific situation and if the child is actually referred to an agency it is done by the parents, not the district consultant.

A child's need for and response to parental love was one of the subjects he considered, drawing a theoretical picture of an ideal parent-child relationship and stating that each member of the audience would leave with his own impression and his own interpretation of the points discussed.

Graber's address was followed by a lively discussion period which evoked such questions as "Are special classes for emotionally disturbed children desirable?" "How can we help children who lie?" and "Does discussion of nuclear warfare affect children?" He answered these and other queries effectively, emphasizing at all times the need to consider each problem in terms of the individual child and his family and not as a generalization.

Business of the evening included presentation of the unit's membership banner to Mrs. Koenig's first grade class and reports on membership and weekly ice cream sales. Reports were given by Mesdames Warren Vocke and Salvatore Scaduto. Michael Orlich announced that there will be a supervised school recreation program during Christmas vacation, beginning December 4.

Hostesses, with a Thanksgiving theme reflecting their activities for the week, were Mesdames C. Blake, R. Esposto, E. Raymond and D. Shotts, all mothers of fourth graders. Den 3, Pack 259, of the Cub Scouts, presented the colors, with Eugene Baraona, Eddie Cohen, Jimmy Esposto, Vince Haymaker, Billy Jones, Mike Peters, Danny Proctor and Steve Scaduto officiating. Wall decorations for the evening were made as part of the Garden Village School service program by students under the direction of Mrs. Robert Fernekes.

William Coen will welcome all new members to the meeting, assisting Mrs. Coen are Mrs. George McLoughlin, Mrs. John McVeigh, Mrs. Alfred Bara, Mrs. Paul Crowley and Mrs. Mario Paolini.

The meeting will commence promptly, following devotions, at 8 p.m. in the church.

Fashions In Orbit Highly Successful

The fourth fashion show presented by the church of the Good Shepherd proved to be one of the most unique.

The lovely models in their stunning fashions were applauded by the inspired audience. A delicious luncheon was served at the afternoon showing and a wonderful dessert at the evening showing.

Would Homer Have a Word for This?

THE WORLD HOPE, first major ship built in Greece since ancient times, goes through her trial paces. In the background is the island of Salamis, from which mighty Ajax launched twelve "black-hulled" ships for the Trojan war.

Without oars or sail this new black-hulled giant glides across the "wine-dark sea," and she uses galleys half as big as Ajax's for lifeboats. Yet her crew is less than the complement of one of his vessels. Her sole purpose is to transport a substance Homer's people had no use for, the legendary water that burned—crude oil.

The 25,000-ton tanker was constructed by Hellenic Shipyards Company at Skaramanga, near Athens. She joins the fleet of Greek shipowner, Stavros Niarchos, who also founded the shipyard, Greece's first heavy industry.

David Mark Scores Success

Eighteen-year-old Daly City painter David Mark, 111 Avalon drive, has reported a "smashing success" in his month-long exhibition at the Artists Cooperative, Union near Steiner streets, San Francisco.

Mark sold nine paintings, has made contact for exhibition at the Eton Gallery in New York City and is now exhibiting at the Collector's Gallery in Oakland.

Two paintings were sold to a Dennis Gallery art dealer. Mark is a recent graduate of Westmoor High School and is the youngest member of Artists Cooperative. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ephraim Mark.

Parents Participate In Vista Mar Study

Vista Mar's parents are participating academically in class room work.

Mrs. Jeane Oberlander's second grade was presented by Mr. Bearehell with a sturdily constructed United States mail box, painted red and blue, complete with hinge door, due to his son, Chuck, a member of the class, stating the class needs in their social science unit on "Community Helpers."

This delightful replica of a mail box will be put to use at the school level later.

Arithmetic has become most meaningful to Don Knudsen's third and fourth grade group, as they took two cake recipes and while the third grade enlarged the recipe, the fourth grade decided to decrease it—thus involving multiplication and division.

The activity was further motivated through the cooperation of Mrs. William Wood, mother of a member of the class, Donald, who brought her electric oven so that the cake actually became a reality and was enjoyed by students and staff.

Culminating a unit on "Early Colonial Life," a tape recording complete with pantomime of the "First Thanksgiving" was presented to fourth and fifth grade students by Mrs. Angeline Friedman's fifth grade.

This was appropriately timed in terms of the Thanksgiving holidays.

Local Model Speaks On Charm, Grooming

"The average woman does have a potential. Even when women don't feel feminine, they should act feminine."

These opinions were expressed by Miss Diane Darnell, lecturer and instructor in modeling and self improvement who begins a "glamor and charm" course beginning Dec. 11 at the Westlake Bowl. The program is sponsored by the North San Mateo County YWCA.

Miss Darnell, a very charming brunette herself, is a member of the Screen Actors Guild, Screen Extras Guild and Professional Models Association. She said the classes are aimed at both the housewife and the teenager.

Miss Darnell suggests wardrobe hints, tips in makeup and talks on how to increase a woman's femininity.

The charm course lasts six weeks—"And they should look much better by the time they're finished," Miss Darnell affirmed.

Instructors try to help their women students lose weight, choose a better wardrobe and hair style.

"Every woman needs charm, because appearance is very important, in business and in social life—it gives a woman confidence."

After wardrobe and grooming instruction, the women learn about speech development.

"So often women will come to the class and have no idea of the relation of colors," Miss Darnell stated. The right combination of colors, she said, is taught in the January class on wardrobe.

A woman, she said, often picks a wardrobe to make a definite effect on a man. "For instance, grey will make a person look older."

"Red is an exciting color—or it can arouse hostility."

Choose Your Own Color

One tip given to office girls, she added, is not to wear a bright orange or red color to work, since it obviously attracts too much attention. Blue has a calming affect, as does green, she said, "but if a woman does not like a color herself, she should not wear it. Even if it is becoming on her."

Miss Darnell's background includes work in filmed and live television, motion pictures, radio and modeling.

In filmed TV, she worked for "The Lineup" series, "333 Montgomery Street," "Mr. Garland," "The Expendables," commercials for Ford Motors in 1960 and 1961, Arata Pontiac and Metreac.

She has appeared on live television and radio. Modeling experience includes fashion, photography and demonstration. Miss Darnell holds a bachelor of arts degree from San Francisco State College in speech and drama. She did post graduate work in radio and television.

Lincoln Group To Sponsor Sale

Abraham Lincoln PTA will hold its next regular meeting on Dec. 12 at 7:30 p.m.

After a short business meeting, a holiday musical program will be presented by the school children. The glee club will sing a selection of Christmas songs, under the direction of Mrs. Pat Hackett. Mrs. Ann Byerly's fourth grade class will also be on hand to present a Christmas tableau. And, of course, no program would be complete without a few selections by the school orchestra, directed by Robert Steele.

A white elephant sale will be held following the children's program. If you have any items such as usable jewelry, potter vases, etc., to donate you can deliver them to Mrs. George Elkington, 729 Skyline drive, Mrs. Donald Banks, 757 Skyline drive, Mrs. Robert Stewart, 720 Skyline drive. If you cannot deliver the items, contact Mrs. Stanley Bacon, PL 5-1783, or Mrs. Michael Kerekes, PL 5-4284, and they will arrange to have them picked up.

We wish to remind you that Christmas gift boxes will be sold at this meeting. The boxes sell for 15 cents each. Boxes are also available by contacting Mrs. George Elkington, PL 5-6669. These boxes need no wrapping other than a decorative bow or ribbon. The boxes are available in black, silver and gold.

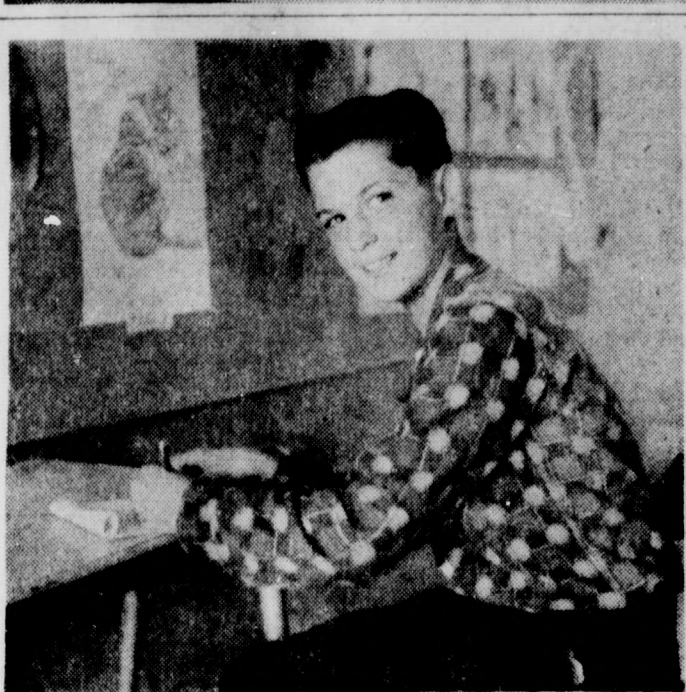

Children of Mrs. Nyhan, Mrs. Dallmann, Mrs. Katsaros and Mrs. Kazakoff's classes contributed to this project.

Other classes are in the process of filling Hogan kits with toys, pencils, etc., for the Navajo children.

Mrs. Kazakoff's class has already filled two kits and sent them on to the Indian children.

A thank-you letter was received from the Junior Red Cross chairman, Phoebe Cray, thanking all those children who contributed to the happiness of people in the hospitals and the Navajo children.

Children of Mr. Jonas, Mrs. Walden and Mrs. Kent's classes who helped Mrs. Kazakoff represent the Junior Red Cross are: Billie Joy Wilson, Becky Kerekes, Stephanie Pettito, Anne Melerey, Judith Bearsh, and Paulette Solomon.

TOP MAN—The brains behind the Fernando Rivera School newspaper last month was sixth grader George Poulos, editor-in-chief. Poulos is a good athlete besides being class president and organizer of the news staff.

School Publishes News Despite Flu

by Jack Wood

Diehard, dedicated journalists of the Fernando Rivera School "Rivera Roundup" made the deadline before Thanksgiving although the flu epidemic almost wiped out the entire staff.

Editor in chief George Poulos, however, rallied his page makeup men to his cause and published the school's first four-page, a going effort of the sixth grade, under the direction of their teacher, Miss Jane Finley.

The paper even had a pumpkin pie recipe and want ad section, edited by pet, blond 11-year old Cindy Hellesen, who advertised a pogo stick, baseball bat, and Wilson football for sale.

Published Monthly

Steve Bach, a serious lad who likes science fiction, edited the entertainment page. He analyzed "Science in Action" television show in his TV column.

Bach likes this kind of program because it is educational for his class level, he said.

The school paper will be published by a different class each month, will keep the student body informed of events around the school and provide practical language experience.

Instructor, Miss Finley was enthusiastic. "We did it just like the real thing."

"I was editor of my high school newspaper. The students learned what a newspaper is, how it is made up. Editor George Poulos made up a schedule. The page editors made up pages and they discussed in groups what would go into each page, number of lines and size of headlines."

Crack Sports Writers

Poulos wrote a story on what he thought about the school. Poulos is class president, and also a good football player who likes to collect coins as a hobby.

Stephanie Chaprais edited a page for women and wrote a story on what the teachers did last summer. Her reporters were Audrey Zweig, who wrote on the birthday of John Spy, custodian; Caron Amos on tips to grooming; Suzy Lehre on fashions; and Linda Nagy on Beanie for the Red Cross.

The crack sports writing team of Bruce Russell and Louis Gernhardt made up the sports page.

Miss Finley explained the sports situation like this: "The sports writers knew pretty much what was going on since our class won the football championship. All the boys in the whole class were players. They had to be, or else we didn't have a full team."

Lots of Talent
George commented on his sports writing technique: "I wrote a little about each game we played—mostly I'd write about the championship game when the sixth grade Hawks beat the fifth grade Bogcats. As a matter of fact, my whole article was about that."

"Then I got the flu."

Guests are invited to the 10 a.m. program. A nursery will be provided.

Northgate Praised

Editor:

I must voice objection to the condemnation of the Northgate Transit Company's service within Daly City as reported in the Nov. 29 edition of the Westlake Times. I have ridden the buses regularly for the past five years, and do feel that the expressed criticism fails to acknowledge the loyalty of the group of men who have dedicated themselves to the thankless undertaking of establishing the cooperative which even now frequently demands 12 to 14 hours daily in a seven-day weekly schedule.

I concur that much improvement could be made in both service and business management. The company has sought the aid of the Daly City Council several times in making revisions and improvements in their schedules. I have read of this in the Times. The venture of building a strong and effective suburban bus service is a giant task, and must be undertaken through serious evaluation of the problems rather than irresponsible criticism.

In the meantime, I publicly offer my thanks to the men of the Northgate Transit Company who are doing their best to give improved service.

Sincerely,
BARBARA G. BUSETTO.

Louis Gernhardt took over then for George and made out the page plan. He explained another sport story technique was writing about the game of the month. This story about a fumble and pickup by Poulos for a touchdown was described on the sports page. Staff member Rayna Alcalá wrote on the girls' soccer team.

Front page writers were Tom Lavezzoli, Kem Robbins and Tony Nocita. Writing on the entertainment page were Bart Bacigalupi, Debbi Gill and editor Bach.

"The Little Plaque That Hung On The Mantlepiece"

Sam Chandler, head librarian of the Daly City public libraries, gave out last week with a little history of the John D. Daly Public Library.

The original library was built on land given to the city. It was built in 1920 by John W. Marchbanks and now houses the children's books. A big fireplace provided warmth by which to read, and over the fireplace hung a plaque with the inscription: "John D. Daly Public Library."

That plaque was taken down 20 years ago when the library was remodeled—and forgotten.

During the jubilee in October, members of the celebration committee started wondering what happened to the plaque. They searched for it and finally dug it up in an old storeroom. It was polished up and restored to its place above the fireplace. And the little plaque lived happily ever after.

The Daly City library on Mission street remained the only one in the city until the Westlake branch opened in 1960. At last count, the two libraries together contained 30,397 volumes. About half that number is in each library.

During the year 1960-61, the libraries lent 184,185 books. Approximately two-thirds of that number were borrowed from the Westlake branch.

PACK 77 HAS 'MAGIC NITE'

"Magic" filled the Buri Buri School when Den 2 led the pledge opening the monthly pack night for Cub Scout Pack 77, Monday evening, Nov. 27.

First order of business for the evening was roll call and inspection, resulting in Den 1 winning the honor of keeping "Chubbie" until the December pack night.

Starting the festivities, all the boys and parents participated in a verbal audience response playlet narrated by Cubmaster Hal Humber. Puppeteers of Den 6 followed with a presentation of their version of "Jack-in-the-Beanstalk," using original puppets and scenery created by their group.

Using the monthly theme, "Cub Scout Magic," "Professor Do Yourbest," portrayed by Cubmaster Humber, pulled the awards from his bag of tricks. Instead of pulling rabbits out, he pulled bobcats for Jimmy Hendrix, Douglas Shoemaker, Marc Basanez, Cory David, Jerry Pielas and David Macaulay.

Next came a wolf badge and dinner stripes for Dennis Lapayade, and a wolf badge for Claude Schroeder. Jack Campbell received a bear badge and one-year star; Robert Rogers a bear badge, gold and silver arrows, one-year service star and assistant dinner stripes; Bill Aron, gold arrow on wolf; Ronald Stein, two silver arrows on wolf; Peter Alexander, three silver arrows on wolf; Eddy Gasser, silver arrow on wolf and one-year service star.

John Axon and Curt Fisher were awarded one-year service stars; John Chisholm and Larry Mallorino received two-year service stars. Dinner stripes for Richard Williams, Ferris King, Gregory Lamperti and Carl Gianni. Assistant dinner stripes for Robert Godkin, Edward Schlegel, Steve Achef, Fred Stribbling and John Olson.

Honored guest Ernest Casados, district Scout executive, spoke a few words about the recent Scout recognition dinner at which Mr. Humber received a veteran's award for 15 years in Scouting and Mrs. Humber received the "Order of Merit." He presented his special recognition awards to Den Mothers as follows: Phyllis Wood, Lynn Sullivan, Dorothy Erion, Jean Chisholm, Sylvia Andrews, Marge Mallorino and Ann Gianni.

To give Pack 77's own "Order of Merit" award to Mrs. Hal Humber, the Men's Glee Club of Pack 77 made their debut with the presentation of an original rendition honoring her, along with a hand-made plaque.

The next family outing is scheduled for the "King of Kings" on Dec. 16 at the Coronet Theater at 10 a.m. The Christmas pack night is to be held on Dec. 15 at 7 p.m.

The "magic" pack night was closed by Den 4 reciting a prayer, "Father, We Thank Thee."

Early Mailing On Yule Packages Urged

Daly City Postmaster Vincent P. Murphy says: Be sure your Christmas cards and packages arrive on time; please shop and mail early.

Do You Know?

The sleek, powerful diesel electric locomotives that haul the crack "Super Continental" passenger train across the Continent, make the longest continuous diesel passenger run on the North American Continent.

It is 2,924 miles from Montreal in Quebec Province to Vancouver in British Columbia, and the "Super's" diesels which leave Montreal every afternoon in the year operate right through to Vancouver in 69 hours and 24 minutes—without change.

Engine crews are changed 18 times at various divisional points across the country, of course, but the same diesels that leave Montreal operate right through to the Pacific Coast, taking on fuel en route as required.

Then when the "Super's" diesels reach Vancouver they are fueled, serviced, turned and sent back across the Continent—another 2,924 miles.

In crossing the Continent, the Canadian National diesels traverse some of the most interesting and scenic sections of Canada, stopping at such great Canadian cities as Ottawa, Winnipeg, Saskatoon and Edmonton.

The route takes the diesels and its string of sleeping cars and coaches and mail and express cars through the broad and fer-

Jeff PTA Will Have Musical

Lucinda McSweeney Wins DAR Award

Each year at Westmoor High School, one senior girl is honored with the Daughters of the American Revolution Citizenship Award. Miss Lucinda McSweeney is the recipient from the graduating class of 1962.

Late in October, three girls were nominated for the DAR award by the senior girls. The faculty then made the final choice. Their decision was based on dependability, leadership, service, and patriotism.

Lucinda will compete next week in a United States history test with recipients of the DAR award from other high schools in the district. The girl who scores highest on this test will then write an essay concerning United States history, which will be entered in future competition. The specific topic has not yet been announced.

Lucinda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Rankin, 93 Fernwood avenue, Westlake, is a senior at Westmoor and plans to attend Mills College in Oakland next September. She is in numerous school clubs, and is a page editor on the school paper, "Rampage."

For the advance sale, a box of 15 doughnuts will be offered for only one dollar.

"Our City Government" was the theme of a grade-wide report made by the third grade of Abraham Lincoln Elementary School, Miss Lynette Hoffman, teacher, on Friday, Dec. 1.

After a trip to City Hall, the class developed a report on "Our City Government and Our City Services." Bobby Rivera discussed the responsibilities of the mayor, Robert St. Clair, while Laura Campagnolo reported on the job of City Manager Frank. The councilmen, DeBernard, Dennis, Paccelli and Verducci, were represented by Roland Candee.

The important position of Evelyn Mosman, city clerk, and Joe Lewkowitz, city treasurer, was defined by Terry Price and Dan Shockley.

Our city services — fire department, police department, water department, the city pound, the public library and the department of parks and recreation were covered in this report by Steven Cockerham, Donald Hegarty, Janice Muskin, Kathy Witmer, Karen Wahler and Jim DeAlba.

The master of ceremonies opened the discussion with the following original remark: "We are going to do a program for you on our city government. Our city government is a good one because it makes our city nice."

Mrs. Judith Williams' room 3 displays five mosaic panels from the Nutcracker Suite; Mrs. Arleen Byers' room 2 has a mosaic scene of the Three Wise Men, while Rooms 1 and 10, Mrs. Carolle Gillis and Mrs. Lea Fox have cooperated in the presentation of a large Christmas tree surrounded by gaily wrapped packages.

The children have willingly and happily made these decorations to express their own beliefs in the time of year dedicated to giving and to the belief in peace on earth — and happiness for all.

TV and Radio

By MONA BAKER

The interview lasted almost an hour and a half—from serious thoughts on nuclear war to a discussion of comedy on television — Steve Allen proved to be a most gracious and cooperative person to interview as he talked with members of the Bay Area press. In town to originate his show which was seen last week over ABC, KGO-TV the star met with the press in the back of the theater as he talked while rehearsals for the show were going on ahead on the stage. Finally, as the orchestra really became warmed up, it was difficult to hear what he said, so he suggested that we adjourn to the lobby. There, sitting casually on the steps in the lobby, he continued to answer questions.

Not only a talented television performer, Steve Allen has composed music, written poetry, also an autobiography, "Mark It and Strike It," which gives quite an insight into his character. He told us that he is now completing a serious novel. Talking about the show, he said they hope to visit more cities. However, it is quite an undertaking to move the program from Hollywood to other locations because there are so many people involved in the production. Certainly we feel the effort was justified because the San Francisco origination was one of the best of the current season. The Christmas holiday show, he told us, will be telecast from his home.

Memo to KQED: We questioned Mr. Allen as to how he felt about educational television. He commented: "I think educational television is an exciting field. I would like to contribute to it. I'm available if anyone asks me to do anything for educational television." Our local Channel 9 has produced outstanding shows for the educational network so we hope they are listening.

Cadet Corps Ok'd For SSF

Establishment of a California Cadet Corps in South San Francisco High Schools during the coming school year has been authorized by school trustees of the South San Francisco United School district.

The school board agreed on the move because the district is ineligible for Federal aid for the establishment of an ROTC, as the government has curtailed allocations for such organizations.

The Sport Scene

By JIM GOLDSBOROUGH

I've always had a great deal of trouble deciding which was the greater virtue—excellence or attitude.

Excellence is impressive. There is perhaps nothing more enjoyable to the fan than watching a talented man going about his job with efficient professional calm, and being so naturally proficient that the tensins topple at the sight of him. Here is the perfection that has no peer and can make mockery of the game because it's never a contest.

When witnessed, this sort of an exhibition takes on a different aspect. It is not a battle of equals, but the exhibition of a paragon. The spectator can metamorphose into the being of this ideal, and experience the mixture of sadism and delight that comes when pleasure is received through another's gifts.

Sheer excellence is an overwhelming thing. Little can really approach it.

If what I've called attitude is not quite as high in the world of forms as excellence, then it easily is second, and trails by very little.

Red Hickey said the other day that attitude, a player's mental condition when he takes the field, is 90 per cent of what is necessary to win. That leaves probably about 9 per cent to talent, and a miscellaneous 1 per cent to digestion, sleep, and other functional processes.

However, Red didn't say WHAT attitude he had in mind. Is it the killer attitude? We'll die for the old blue and gold or never be able to look our classmates in the eye?

Is it the indifferent attitude? I don't have anything else to do this year so I think I'll go out for football!

What the devil kind of an attitude is it?

The English have had an attitude that, summed up, can be put "do your best," "give it your all," "die for it if necessary."

And when it is over, forget it. Off to the pub.

There have been athletes, soldiers, gentlemen—well, nigh anyone who is in a position where they must perform well—who have played when the victory was clear and the contest was dead and nobody really cared.

They have also been there when the struggle was hard, and the loss would cost them dearly; I have seen them lose and grin, and forget it and be ready to try again the next time the contest started.

It was as if these guys alone knew it was really just all a game.

The current vogue is against competition. The television channels offer us nothing but storybook heroes who never lose, are rarely threatened, and seldom muss their hair.

They are offered as icons of identification, as a declared plasma for what everyone says is the dying masculinity of the American Male.

We see private detectives and cowboys who are young, virile, pretty, clever, witty and utterly impossible.

We are asked to believe that life is like this, that we are like them, and that the most important of all things is appearance.

Excellence is first—important and necessary—but if this little homily has any point at all it is that talent is nice if you happen to have it, but it's this other thing, attitude, that makes the real pro.

A man enters competition and will either win or lose. As long as we want to compete, somebody will lose.

The loser picks himself up, dusts himself off, and rips right back into the old fray. He may well be the better man for losing. Cervantes said, "He who wins a girl, wins her. He who loses her, wins also."

And Boswell told us that a man used to the vicissitudes of life is not easily defeated.

A paraphrase might be that a man who understands that a game is just a game—is not easily defeated.

RAMS EDGED IN FIRST CONTEST

Marin-Catholic spoiled Westmoor's opening basketball game as they edged the Rams, 38-36.

The Rams and Wildcats both had first game jitters, and the Wildcats won it by committing fewer errors. Wildcats' Smith was the game's leading scorer with 14 points, as he consistently broke into the clear for short shots. Harry Brown hit seven for the Rams.

Westmoor led, 7-6, at the quarter and didn't lead again until the final period. Marin-Catholic led, 19-17, at halftime and 30-26 at the end of the third stanza. Hasset and Sheehan each shot a pair of charity shots to wrap it up for Marin-Catholic.

at Westlake Bowl

By JIM GREALISH

A good time was had by all at the Third Anniversary Party last Saturday night. With Walt Tolleson's combo supplying the music, there were many bowlers tripping the light fantastic.

The intra-mural league of San Francisco State College started this last Tuesday afternoon. President Bob Paulson announces that the league will be steadily expanding over the next month. Campus representative Dick Valois is recruiting more teams from the ladies' dormitory and he expects to have at least 10 more teams by the first of the year.

Last week's Powder Puff Derby saw Helen Vincent win in the scratch division with a 232 game and 608 series—second was Mildred Garrett with 203—554. In the handicap division, Bea Durand led with 527-132—659, followed by Betty Crowley with 441-170—611.

The next Powder Puff Derby will be held on Monday, Dec. 18, at 1:15 p.m.

The A-1 Nursery Ladies' League has challenged the A-1 Nursery Men's League to a one-day tournament. Sponsor Dorothy Moyle has announced that there will be trophies for the winners. This match will take place on Wednesday, Jan. 10, at 11 a.m.

The highlight of the 99ers Mixed League was not Dick Hayes' shooting 601, since he does that all the time, but Mimi Ellis, who converted the extremely difficult 6-7-10 split.

The bowlers in the 825 Scratch League are pressing the higher average leagues for high-score honors as Bill Boyd shot 254 and 648 and George Balletto had 200-202-212 for 614.

Westmoor basketball coach Tony Grammona showed the members of the Daly City Employees' League that he is an all-round athlete by shooting a 246 game and 607 series. Josephine Runne upheld the honor of the police department with a 178 game and 509 series.

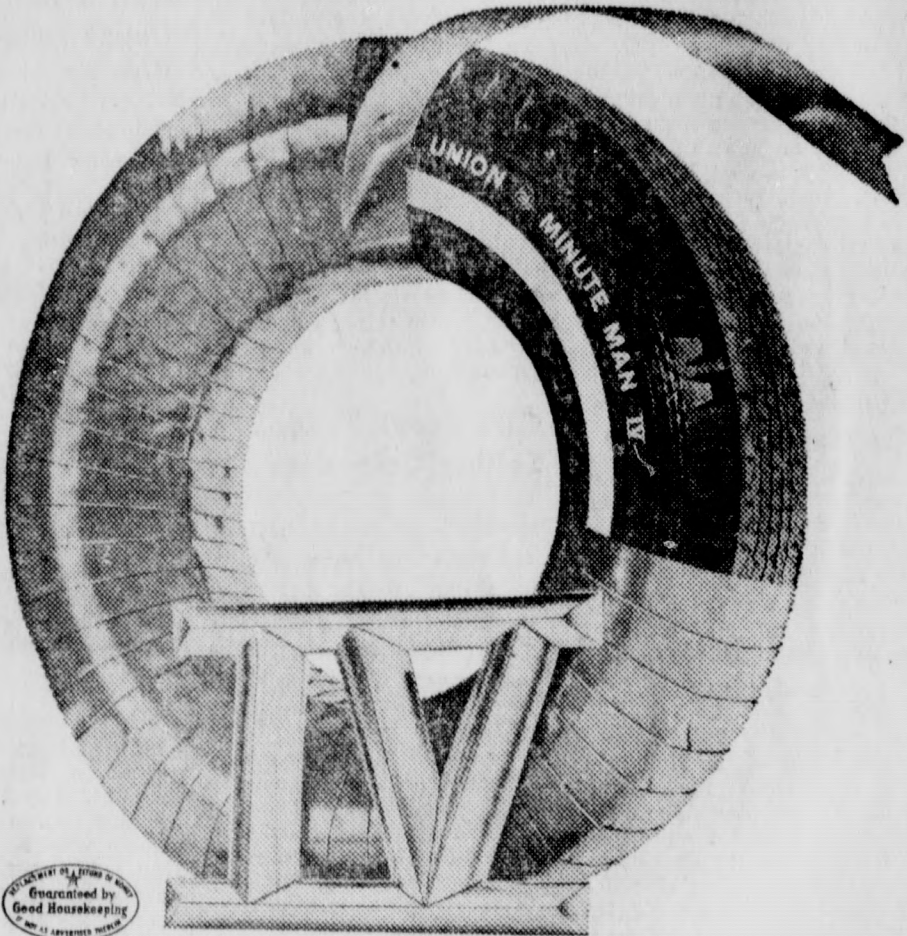

Once again Carl Steigerwald was the leader for the Olympic Club golfers as he shot a high game of 216 and a 605 series. Lola Gambucci and Lou Pierovich ran neck and neck for honors in the Evening Stars League as Lou had a 193 game and Lola a 510 series.

Hal Dees has finally showed wife Carole that he is the bowler of the household. Being a perfect gentleman, he has always allowed Carole to beat him in the Broadmoor American Legion League, but last week he decided it was time to change the pattern, so he shot a 236 game and 638 series.

Comeback man of the week is John McNulty in the Sleepers League with 223—581.

WINDSHIELD CAN BE SCRATCHED EASILY

Glass is a hard substance, no doubt, but the National Automobile Club warns you that unless you clean your windshield carefully with a soft cloth you will discover that the grit covering the surface is capable of scratching the glass.

Announcing the

MINUTE MAN IV

The tire that lets you

FORGET FREEWAY FEARS

I FORGET FREEWAY FEARS... with a new kind of protection against punctures. Each Minute Man IV contains a puncture-protecting sealant that prevents air from escaping. A nail can puncture a Minute Man IV. No air escapes. No flat. You don't even have to stop, no matter what speed you're traveling.

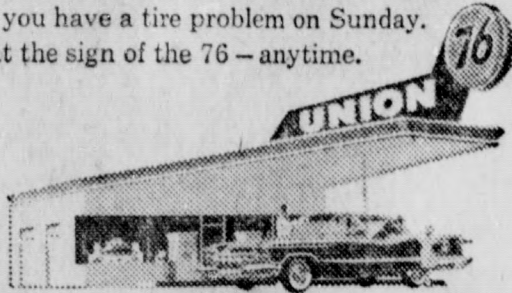

II FORGET FREEWAY FEARS... with extra rubber on the edge for extra safety. Tires get the most stress and wear on the edge of the tread. That's where we've put extra rubber in the Minute Man IV. Result: Sure-footed cornering and a luxury ride.

III FORGET FREEWAY FEARS... with a deeper tread for extra skid resistance. The tread of the Minute Man IV is 33½% deeper than the tread of tires that come on new cars. You get more "hold" on the road, more resistance to skids.

IV FORGET FREEWAY FEARS... with extra muscle in the nylon cord. You get a tire that's tougher throughout, more resistant to curb bruises.

On approved credit you can buy a Minute Man IV with nothing down and take up to 15 months to pay. Why shop around?

Remember. When you drive on any Union 76 Tire you enjoy the extra confidence of 7-day-a-week service throughout the West. You don't have to wait for a store to open on Monday if you have a tire problem on Sunday. Just drop in at the sign of the 76—anytime.

INDIANS READY FOR OPENING JANUARY BASKETBALL TILTS

The first shots came out by Coach Mike Orlich of the Jefferson Indian basketball squad last week, and he didn't sound too optimistic.

The Indians, finishing last year with a strong 24-2 mark, lost every starter, and Orlich faces a complete rebuilding job if he wants to stay near the top this year.

Added to the personnel problem, the Indians this year are going to be forced to go it without a home court. Plans at this stage indicate that afternoon games will be played in the tiny War Memorial court, and the heavy drawing Friday night games will be moved to the Westmoor facilities on the hill. This can be more than an academic problem because coaches invariably rank the "home" advantage in basketball as being greater than in the field sports.

Strength of the league, according to Orlich, will be Westmoor, Mills and San Mateo.

The Indians will be playing practice games throughout the month of December. League play begins Jan. 3.

Tentatively set to start are: Bob Brush, forward, 6'1". Rich Reitz, forward, 6'1". Don Boden, center, 6'2". Stu Sibley, guard, 6'. Darwin Haanen, guard, 6'. Behind Sibley and Haanen will be guards Wayne Crane and Larry Keeling.

The 130s look to be in a little better shape. Comprised in good part by boys off last year's league champion 120s, Coach Rick Warne's entourage will be led by sophomore Steve Willis, a boy whom Warne says "has a great future."

"He's got all the moves," the coach said. "He's quick and has a great shot."

Set to start are: Steve Willis, forward. Dan Luciano, forward. Mark Perry, center.

Arts, Crafts Center Okayed In So. S. F.

South San Francisco city councilmen have retained firms to prepare plans for conversion of the old Magnolia school on Grand avenue into a municipal arts and crafts center, and also to plan for enlargement of the city's sewer trunk system.

The Palo Alto engineering firm of Adamson and Jenks was given an $1800 contract to prepare plans for a sanitary sewer trunk facility installation that will serve an enlarged sewage disposal plant.

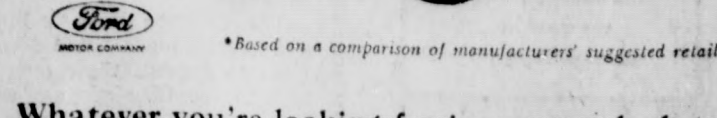

Paul Markling was retained to prepare a preliminary study for conversion of the Magnolia school to an arts and crafts center.

Tom Glasser, guard. Nick Andresen, guard. Though Warne wasn't sure at this time where the strength of the league will lie, he seemed to think that Capuchino probably is in the best shape.

The 130s play the same schedule as the varsity, playing preliminary to the main game.

NEVILLE FORD

7360 Mission Street DALY CITY

COMPACT CLASS:

This class includes cars with 106 to 114-inch wheelbase. Most popular by far (a million happy owners!) is the Ford Falcon. Falcon is America's lowest-priced* 6-passenger car, set a 25-year record for Sixes or Eights in last spring's Mobilgas Economy Run, gives you a choice of 13 models, including the Futura and new Falcon Squire wagon.

FAIRLANE CLASS:

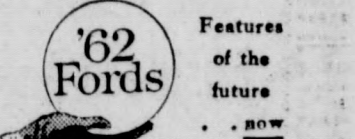

The 1962 Ford Fairlane is the first member of a new class which combines the advantages of both compacts and big cars... you get big car room, ride and performance... compact savings and maneuverability. Priced below many compacts, Fairlane even rivals some in gas economy. Has twice-a-year maintenance introduced by the Galaxie. Available with thrifty Fairlane Six or world's first economy V-8 (optional).

FULL-SIZE CLASS:

This class features big car comfort, performance and prestige. Value leader is the Ford Galaxie—which has every essential feature of far costlier fine cars. With the optional Thunderbird 390 V-8 engine, a Galaxie will outperform America's most expensive luxury cars. Requires servicing only twice a year, or every 6,000 miles.

LUXURY CLASS:

The top class—cars for people who want the very finest. First of the trim-size luxury cars, the 4-passenger Thunderbird is the most distinctive car in this class. Its styling set the trend for an entire generation of cars and now finds a new elegance in the Landau (left). And Thunderbird's performance is just this side of flight.
